Air Force, Navy Planes In Joint Smash at Commies

Hammer Again at Four Big Electric Plants Smashed In Yesterday's Biggest Air Raid of War; Carriers Launch Bombers

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers teamed up again today to hammer four of the five Communist hydro-electric plants smashed yesterday in the biggest air raid of the Korean War.

Nearly 200 Navy planes from big fleet carriers off Korea's east coast joined Air Force planes from dozens of Korean bases to hit the shattered generating stations for the second straight day, Navy headquarters announced.

None of the planes returned to the smoldering Suho power plant just south of the Yalu River boundary. But the Air Force said F84 Thunderjets "completed destruction" of two power stations near Changin Reservoir and two on the Songchon River in Eastern Korea.

Patrol Action Increases
The U. S. Eighth Army reported increasing patrol action along the 155-mile battlefield Tuesday. One Allied patrol battled for almost two hours with a Red unit west of Chorwon, the scene of bloody fighting during the past two weeks.

About 20 Red troops were killed, the Army said.

As Allied experts studied gun film to evaluate destruction done by Monday's big raid on North Korean power plants, there were strong hints that more Red targets are marked for attack.

Opens "Get Tough" Policy
Military officials in Washington said Monday's raid on Communist generating stations inaugurated a new "get tough" policy adopted as a result of Red stalling in the armistice negotiations.

One spokesman who asked not to be identified said "we now realize the best chance for breaking the deadlock at Panmunjom is to hit the enemy with all the force at our command."

A study of gun camera films from the 500 Air Force, Marine and carrier-based Navy planes which took part in the Korean War's biggest air attack showed the strike was virtually a 100 per cent success, the Air Force said.

Direct Hits on All Targets
An official spokesman said direct hits were registered on all five targets, and the world's fourth largest hydro-electric plant at Suho was a "pile of junk." He described the 1,400-foot row of giant transformers and other equipment as a shambles.

The Suho plant lies only a half mile south of Manchuria on the Yalu River, other plants were smashed at the Changin Reservoir and on the Songchon River in eastern North Korea.

No Jets Challenge Attack
Not one Communist jet challenged the attacking Allied planes, although Allied pilots said more than 200 swept-wing MIGs were parked on a Manchurian air base within sight of Suho.

The Air Force said all of its planes returned safely. The Navy said one carrier-based plane was shot down by anti-aircraft fire and four others were hit, but no pilots were lost.

Mum on Bombing Order
No official at United Nations headquarters would say where the order to bomb the power stations originated. The plants have been spared since the war began two years ago and observers said the decision to smash them appeared to be more political than military.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, who formerly headed the U.N. armistice team at Munsan, said at San Diego that he had known for some time a major strike was planned unless an armistice was signed.

The Korean battlefield was relatively quiet Monday after more than two weeks of the heaviest fighting since November.

Congress Told US Must Prepare For Atom Attack
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was told again today the United States needs to get busy now strengthening its defenses to prevent Soviet atomic attacks by sea or by air.

The Coast Guard commandant, Vice Adm. Merlin O'Neill, said this nation has almost no safeguards against a sneak attack by an enemy ship carrying atomic or other weapons. His statement to a closed door session of the House Appropriations Committee was made public today.

O'Neill said the Coast Guard needs more money to patrol U. S. harbors and to protect the both-balled American Navy. Specifically, the Coast Guard is asking Congress for nine million dollars to build 14 picket boats and 20 patrol boats.

In other newly released testimony, E. V. Huggins, assistant secretary of the Air Force, told a House Appropriations subcommittee the nation must start constructing air bases now if they are to be ready in 1954 to meet the threat of a Russian atomic offensive.

He said the Air Force needs 1 1/2 billion dollars for air base construction.

Says VA Will Abandon O'Reilly Hospital At Springfield, Mo.
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Veterans administration spokesman said last night that the O'Reilly hospital at Springfield, Mo., will be abandoned by the VA.

He said the hospital was built by VA in wartime as a "temporary expedient" and was not intended for permanent use.

Its patients will be transferred temporarily to other VA hospitals until the new Kansas City VA hospital is dedicated Oct. 5, the spokesman said.

He denied a report that O'Reilly would become an annex of the Kansas City unit. The Springfield hospital is being turned over to the general services administration for disposal, he said.

Extension Clubs Get Health Tests for All Rural Children

Home Economics Extension Clubs are cooperating with Mrs. Betty Murrell, Sedalia public school nurse, to give every child in Pettis County an opportunity for a "nine point" health inspection.

Clinics have been held at Green Ridge, Striped College, Dresden and Hughesville already and the future schedule is as follows:

LaMonte—Started Monday, continues through Wednesday of this week. For further information, contact Mrs. George Fichter, Hughesville.

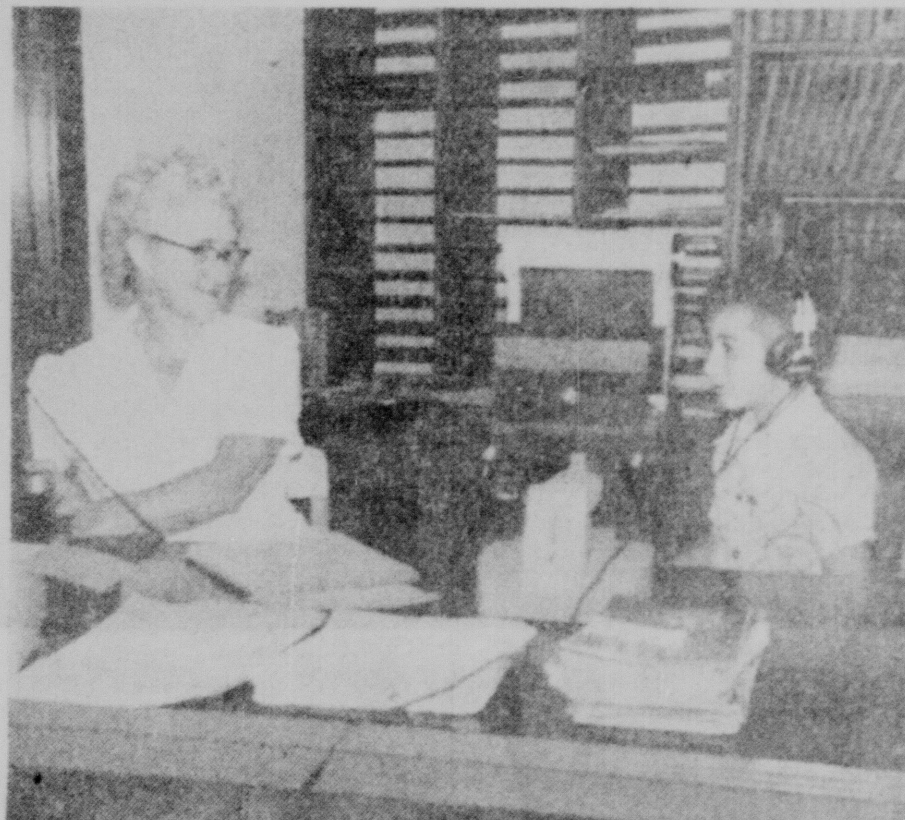

Cartwright—Friday, June 27, for information contact Mrs. Clay Leftwich, Hughesville.

Smithton—Monday, June 30 and Tuesday, July 1. Information may be secured from Mrs. John Rush, Beaman or Mrs. P. O. Seigel, Smithton.

High Point—Monday and Tuesday, July 7 and 8. Information may be received from Mrs. Sam Freund, Sedalia.

GREEN RIDGE AND BRYSON EXTENSION CLUB members assisting with health inspection for rural children. Left to right: Mrs. Mattie Myers, member of Green Ridge Club recording weights and heights; Mrs. Calvert Ruffin, president of Bryson Club, registering children; Gordon Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bolton and high school student at Windsor, being weighed and measured; Mrs. Earl Bolton of the Bryson community and Mrs. Homer Carter Jr., Green Ridge Club, weighing and measuring children.

MRS. BETTY MURRELL, Sedalia school nurse, using the audiometer to test the hearing of James Michael Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Carter of the Bryson community. The machine at the center is the Keystone Telebinocular which Mrs. Murrell uses to test the eyes of each child.

Taft, Ike Give Views

Senator Doubts Bombings Lead To Third War

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio said today he does not believe the bombing of the Communist hydro-electric plants in Korea will lead to a third world war.

"We should have done it long ago," he added.

Taft told a news conference he still believes that Manchurian bases of the Red armies in China can be attacked directly.

The senator came to this Pennsylvania resort town for a meeting with Gov. John S. Fine and a majority of the state's strategically placed 70 delegates to the GOP national convention.

Taft covered a wide range of subjects in a news conference. He said:

1. The statement by Philip Murray, CIO president, that the Taft-Hartley Act would not produce steel is an "outrageous" one "if it is an indication of an intention to defy the courts of the United States."

2. The Truman Administration is using public money to "put out propaganda about the wonderful things they're doing." He named the Department of Agriculture specifically.

3. Discussing the Texas delegation dispute, he said he made an explanation of his backers' action in a closed session with the Maryland delegation last night.

4. Talking about next month's national convention in Chicago, Taft repeated a statement from yesterday that "questions of strategy" will determine whether he attempts to win the nomination on the first ballot. He said plans will be laid down after consultation with the delegates and an appraisal of his strength.

5. After an hour-long conference with Fine, Taft said he had "a very pleasant discussion with Gov. Fine," and that it "ranged the whole field of national and international affairs and Republican politics."

New Civil Rights Bill to Committee
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new civil rights bill which would forbid racial or other discrimination by employers was handed the Senate today by its Labor Committee.

However, even its backers conceded they had virtually no hope that it would even come up for debate before Congress quits for the national political conventions.

General Hopes For Agreeable Foreign Policy

DENVER (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today "I fervently hope" a foreign policy plank can be written into the Republican platform which would be acceptable both to him and to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The general told a news conference: "I don't want to see a bitter convention fight over this point."

This statement came after Eisenhower had pitched his campaign on a peace or war issue with Taft. He had grouped Taft among the nation's isolationists in a major foreign policy speech last night.

A reporter asked if he was "trying to put Taft on the defensive" in the final stages of the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower replied: "No, no, I just believe that someone must preach the truth about these things."

In reply to another question he made it clear he believes Taft is among those who would "sit at home with an Air Force to be dispatched into the wild blue yonder" as America's major defense line.

He went on to say he did not believe himself that mere retaliatory power is enough to win peace. He was asked to define what he meant by the word "isolationist."

But he declined to make any precise definition, saying that it probably boiled down "how much we are ready to work and sacrifice for a great co-operative program of world peace."

He was asked then if he thought Taft as president would only give "half-hearted leadership" in a positive foreign policy program.

Again the general said he would not enter into personalities. Then he said his own belief was that "the United States must lead the free world's cause against the Godless dictatorship of Communism."

Man Killed, 37 Hurt As Truck Careens Off A Rural Road
DALLAS (AP)—A truck crammed with cotton workers careened off a rural road near Dallas last night, plowed down the dirt shoulder for 100 feet, rolled down a steep embankment and overturned.

One man was killed and 37 persons were injured, 13 seriously. The dead man was Luis Rodriguez, 48, Arlington, Tex.

Acheson Sees Eden 2 Hours

West's Diplomatic Officials Outline Problems of Middle East and Europe

LONDON (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden discussed their problems in Europe and the Middle East behind closed doors today.

A spokesman said the Western diplomatic chiefs made a general review of the situation in those two areas in a 2-hour meeting this morning.

They plan to resume their talks this afternoon. Acheson will meet the heads of British diplomatic missions in the Middle East who are winding up a separate 4-day conference here.

Prelude to Big 3 Meeting
The Acheson-Eden talks are a prelude to a Big Three foreign ministers' meeting Friday when French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will join in the discussion.

The main problem facing the United States, Britain and France in Europe at the moment is their reply to the latest Russian note on a peace treaty for Germany.

In the middle East, Britain has been anxious to set up a new defense grouping revolving around the Suez Canal Zone.

Major turning points are expected soon in Britain's relations with Egypt, which have shown signs of improving recently, and those with Iran, which have not.

Seek Several Agreements
Hoped-for agreements with Egypt in the disputes over British troops there and the status of the contested Sudan would clear the way for a new international defense arrangement for the strategic Suez Canal. But in Iran crisis threats are mounting as the country, embroiled in her oil quarrel with Britain, nears bankruptcy.

Yesterday's 500-plane raid on North Korean power plants highlighted London speculation that major policy shifts are in the offing in the Far East. Whether this speculation was well-founded or not, Acheson and Eden were certain to discuss the reports on Korea from Britain's defense minister, Field Marshal Earl Alexander. He is due back here before the end of the week, after talks in Washington yesterday and today.

Donald Moore Confesses Two Car Thefts Here
Donald Moore, 21, of 120 1/2 South Ohio, confessed to two car thefts, which took place early Monday morning, after 20 minutes of grilling by Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors at the City Hall later in the day.

The first, a 1939 Ford sedan, was reported stolen by the Roush-zong Motor Company about nine o'clock and was recovered within a few minutes from Third and Kentucky, where Moore had left it when he found one of the tires was flat.

The car was towed to the police station and the Hamline wrecker. The other, a 1936 Chevrolet sedan, was recovered within an hour after it was taken from the Jenkins-Greer car lot, at the Roadside Park west of Sedalia.

Moore, who is on parole from a conviction of stealing sheep in Saline County, was arrested on a charge of being drunk about 3 a. m. Monday at Jenkins-Greer, 615 West Main.

After he was sentenced to 10 days in the city jail on that charge he was questioned about the car thefts.

Some stores are chasing these customers to their new homes. So unexpectedly successful have been many of the branch stores that have burgeoned since the war in suburban centers that some store managers foresee a day when the tail will be wagging the dog.

Some stores are chasing these customers to their new homes. So unexpectedly successful have been many of the branch stores that have burgeoned since the war in suburban centers that some store managers foresee a day when the tail will be wagging the dog.

City planners are tackling the problem. The first item on the agenda today of the American Institute of Architects is "The Automotive Revolution." P. V. K. Johnson, president of the Automotive Safety Foundation, is giving some 2,000 architects in attendance a report on what is being done to adapt buildings and cities to parking, traffic and safety needs.

Institute President Glenn Stanton of Portland, Ore., says architectural design can melt traffic jams by providing off-street parking and loading facilities.

But the stream of new cars always appears to grow faster than the city planning attempts to deal with them.

The housing trend is a newer menace to the merchant. Since the war, in many larger cities, construction of living units has been confined in most part to two types: housing developments for lower-income groups and luxury apartments for the highest income brackets.

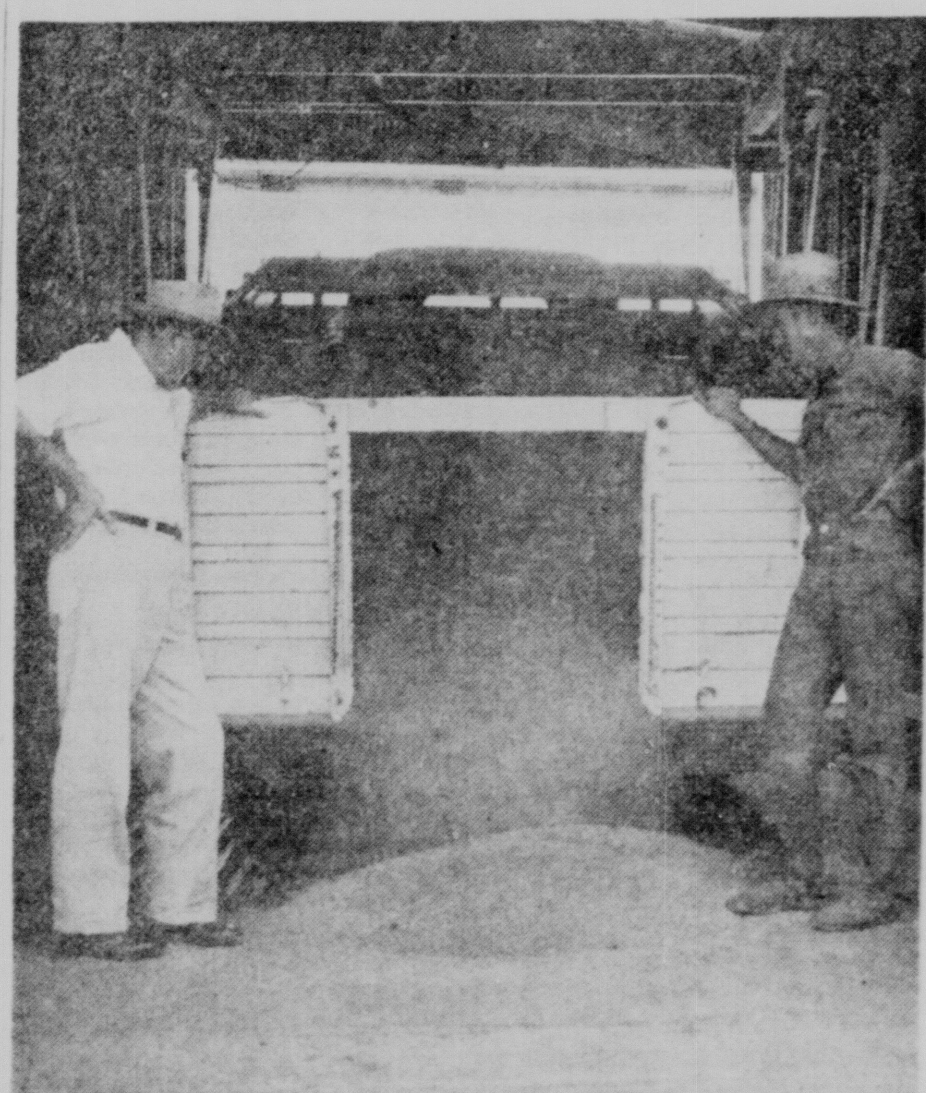

In many cities there is a shortage of living quarters for the middle-income groups. And they have been increasingly pushed toward the suburbs to find homes.

Department store owners feel this keenly. The high-income groups are likely to patronize the high-priced specialty shops. The low-income families are likely to shop in the bargain basements. It is in the middle-income group that the department store used to find its best customers.

The flight of these families to the mushrooming suburbs has, at the same time, added to the congestion of highways and street and commuter transportation facilities into the big cities.

There is still another side to the postwar housing that worries the merchant. Many of the new homes in the suburbs—like the new apartments in the cities—are much smaller than those built before the war.

There is a lack of room for as much furniture as the stores once could sell a family and often a lack of closet space for as many clothes as the merchant would like to see in the family's wardrobe.

FIRST 1952 WHEAT DELIVERED IN SEDALIA came in this truck from R. M. Gorrell and Son whose farm is west of Sedalia. The Gorrells sent in the first load Saturday, followed with another that day and one on Monday. The test was quite high with 61 for weight and 12 1/2 for moisture. The wheat was delivered to the MFA elevator here. (Photo by Padgett.)

Most State Democrat Candidates Coming

State-wide Rally at Liberty Park Here Wednesday Will Follow Parade and Picnic; Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma Is Speaker

Most of the candidates for state offices, including both men who seek the governor nomination, J. E. "Buck" Taylor had a previous engagement; Roger Slaughter has not replied to the invitation.)

Governor—Phil Welch, St. Joseph, and Phil Donnelly, Lebanon.

Treasurer—G. Hubert Bates, Lexington, one of three candidates.

Secretary of state—Walter Toberman, St. Louis, only candidate for this office.

In addition to these a number of the candidates for Congress have indicated they will be on hand and all of the county Democratic candidates will be present. All candidates present will be introduced.

Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, will be the speaker at the rally which will begin at 8 o'clock. He will speak from the band shell in Liberty Park.

The parade will form at Broadway and Ohio at 5 p. m. and will go from Broadway and Ohio to Main and Ohio, then west to Osage, south to Third, and west on Third to Liberty Park where an old-fashioned picnic will be held at 6 p. m.

Search For 'Cons' Continues

Bloodhounds Flown From Hannibal Join Patrolmen Seeking Prison Farm Escapees

The search for three convicts, still at large after a daring break from the Church Prison Farm, six miles west of Jefferson City, was intensified today as the state patrol had blood hounds from Hannibal flown in to track down the men.

Still at large after escaping from the prison were: Kenneth Holloway, 41; James Richardson, 44; and Harry Jones, 32. The men have been tracked to a position near Lincoln, Mo., where they are hiding in the rugged and hilly woods which have been blocked off by the patrol.

Released Couple Here
The search began after John Hanegan and his girl friend, Gale Bruner were forced to accompany the men here where they were released unharmed.

Miss Bruner, a student at Jefferson City Junior College, told the story of the kidnapping and admitted no harm or threats were made to her or her escort.

"John and I have been dating some," she said, "and he was taking me home out to the farm last night. It was about midnight and about a quarter of a mile from the farm we stopped. No sooner had we done so than four men surrounded the car and got in. One of them took over the wheel. Another said we wouldn't be harmed if we behaved ourselves."

Money to Youth
Miss Bruner said that one commented they wanted to go to Sedalia, one on the way to that city, about 60 miles west of here, one of the convicts gave young Hanegan $2.

"That's for gasoline to get home on," he said, according to the girl.

"We just sat in the car and rode along," Miss Bruner said. "Of course, there wasn't much else we could do. They didn't threaten or harm us although we were kind of nervous. John planned to pick up a car in Sedalia and said the two young people could drive back to Jefferson City."

"When we got to Sedalia they drove to a house but one came back and said something about the car not being ready," Miss Bruner said. "Then they drove out to the stockyards at the edge of town and let us out and drove away."

Reported to Police
After the couple had been released they hitchhiked a ride into Sedalia, where they immediately reported the incident to the police. They accompanied the police to various parts of the city where the fugitives had stopped.

One stop was at the home of Holloway's mother, where police learned he had just left. Police reported that Mrs. Holloway said she told her son that she would report him if she found out where he was. Another stop was in the east portion of the city where the couple identified the house that the convicts had spoken of as the place where a car was to be ready.

After the couple returned to the police station they were taken home by Miss Bruner's father, who is the dairy manager of the Church prison farm.

The Church prison farm six miles west of Jefferson City is a honor institution where some 600 convicts are quartered. There is no wall around the institution and only one guard, but the windows are barred. Most of the convicts are those with good records and about to be discharged.

Little Time to Serve
According to B. Marvin Casteel, director of the state department of corrections, both Sebastian and Jones had only a little time left to serve.

"The other two also had good records and had been getting along all right," Casteel added. "We sent Holloway out there only six weeks ago, and Richardson's record was good enough that we made a checker out of him."

A checker at the prison farm has some trusty's duties in that he checks the prisoners in at 10 o'clock at night. Casteel said that Richardson apparently checked in the other three men, whereas they actually were not within the building, and then walked away himself.

Jacquie Murder Trial Opens On Wednesday
The first degree murder trial of Earl Jacquie, Hermann, Mo., who is charged with the death of his former wife, Belma Jacquie, on June 21, 1951, in Sedalia, will be heard before the Benton County Circuit Court of Judge Dewey Thatch in Warsaw Wednesday morning at 9 a. m.

Jacquie was reported to have shot his wife in the home of her mother, after which he beat her with the gun while chasing her down Spring Street and finally cut her throat with a butcher knife, which he had picked up as he went through the kitchen.

After taking his wife's life he attempted to cut his own throat, but was only slightly injured.

The prosecution will be handled by Harold Bamberg, acting prosecuting attorney, and the defense is in charge of Fred F. Wesner.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

XIII

THE gold suddenly became inconsequential. Life itself was the stake we played for and to this man who disguised himself in the accepted garb of the mountaineer, who hid behind a mask, our lives quite obviously would mean nothing at all.

Even Sergeant Duncan seemed respectful of the nearness of the gray steel gun barrel. Ordell was pale and tense, his kind blue eyes dull with fear.

So David slowly but obediently lifted the quaint, rotting little trunk from the earth.

"Lift the lid," whispered the masked figure, his whispering voice thick with excitement.

David laid his hand upon the latch to obey the command.

I had forgotten Susie. When we dismounted she ran after a scolding squirrel but I, intent on discovery of the treasure, forgot her. But when she heard the pistol shot, she came tearing back, sensing danger.

As the big dog came over the high ground beyond the granite rocks, she saw the figure with the revolver. Silently she poised her big body for action, terribly powerful she crouched behind the masked man, her fangs bared wickedly, her 85 pounds of furious strength waited for a perfect attack and then sprang mercilessly at our masked assailant.

The figure whirled with gun leveled as he heard Susie's low and savage snarl—but not in time.

THE dog leaped to kill, her wide jaws searching for the man's throat. The force of that powerful attack made the revolver go off, throwing man and dog to earth. Its bullet hit a rock and ricocheted close to me.

Revolver in hand, both David and Duncan leaped to Sue's rescue, but the rolling mass of man and dog was too entangled.

"Don't shoot," I begged. "You'll kill her."

Using his revolver as a club the man gave Susie a horrible blow across the shoulders and as the dog relaxed her grip and reeled back, the figure sprang to his feet.

Both Roberts and Duncan fired. Roberts' shot grazed a booted leg. Duncan's shot went wild. Sue again flung herself upon the man and knocked his revolver to earth. The man cursed horribly and his whispering voice broke wildly as Sue's teeth sank deep. Again, Roberts' and Duncan fired and both shots went home. But one of them wounded Sue in the left hip. I found myself screaming hysterically. When the bullet hit her, Sue lost her hold. The man was up and running, leaving blood where he had rolled on the earth. Again poor Sue threw herself upon him and they went down together, his arms around her as he tried to push her away from his throat. They rolled down the slope, past the spring and into the canyon below.

I drew back from the edge of the abruptly sloping hill, sick and still screaming wildly.

"On your horses," shouted David. "Follow the cliff trail. I'll carry the trunk. Lift it up to me, Ordell," he commanded as he made a run for his horse.

The Professor lifted the trunk which was light and with no promise of gold. Bending from his horse, Roberts lifted the lid. We crowded about, standing on tip-toe to see only a scrap of yellowed and moldered paper. It bore a faded pencil message: "If you be the rightful owner of the gold, it be yours."

Aghast, we stared at the paper. There was no offense, only this enigmatic sentence.

Our mounts were nervous and frightened by the noise of the shooting and were difficult to control. They raced down the zig-zagging path that wound back and forth across the face of the mountain to the floor of the canyon and stream below.

My mind was a jumbled tangle of amazement at the turn of events. I dreaded finding the two mangled bodies that must surely lie below us. It seemed unlikely that either man or dog could live through that awful fall.

Despite the terrible rolling of man and dog down that earthy cliff, despite their united fall, the dog held her grip.

They had struck upon a growth of scrub willow and pine which somewhat broke their fall. The man died instantly. His battered head rested upon a granite boulder.

Susie lay on top of and across his body. Her left foreleg and left hip were broken. She was conscious when we found her but lay spent and quiet; her beautiful amber eyes filled with pain and terror, lighted with love as I knelt beside her.

Sergeant Duncan slowly pulled aside the snugly fitted bandana hood from the dead man's head.

This man was our host, Rodney James.

ROBERTS knelt and began a thorough examination of Susie while Duncan spread a saddle blanket over James. The Professor looked ill and deathly pale. This last shock, together with his grieving for his wife, was too much for him. His aesthetic nature was capable of intense suffering and I pitied him from the bottom of my heart.

Miss Hansen also noticed his anguish and gently took him by the arm. "Come over here, Professor, and sit down on this rock. Try to breathe deeply." Of course her manner was wholly professional and yet I wondered if this nurse cared for him. It was the second time such a thought had flashed through my mind. I was ashamed of my suspicions when I saw the Professor's tragic face and remembered he had not been told that his wife was alive.

David made temporary splints for Susie's leg and hip. The hurt dog whimpered while he worked with her, but when he finished David said, "Unless she's injured internally, I think she'll recover."

Harris Reverses Himself, Backs Pan American Subsidy

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — Congressman Oren Harris, Arkansas Democrat, tried to laugh off a $200 dinner date with Pan American Airways' Vice President, J. Carroll Cone, as reported in this column.

In 1950, Harris voted against Pan Am on the question of separating mail pay from government subsidies. But this year, Pan Am's representative paid the check for Harris and his wife at the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner. After that dinner, Harris reversed his vote on the mail pay question, and even took the initiative in the secrecy of the committee, of introducing the Pan Am substitute.

After these facts were brought to light by this column, Harris was kidded about it at a closed-door meeting of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. "At least the Democratic Party got the money," was Harris's flip-pant reply.

While it is true that the Democrats got the $200 and the Congressman got a free dinner—Pan American Airways stands to get $17,000,000 at the taxpayers' expense.

Inside fact about the Harriman-Kefauver race in the District of Columbia was that President Truman had passed out word that he wanted to use this to stop Kefauver at any cost.

Mr. T., egged on by those around him, is still smarting over the way the bank Tennessee trounced him in the New Hampshire Primary. And, to get even, the President passed the word down to the local democratic machine, also delivered a ringing civil rights speech at Washington's leading Negro College, Howard University, at the height of the Kefauver-Harriman Campaign. There were two results:

1. Immediate result was to put the Tennessee Senator on the spot with Negro voters.

2. Long-term result will be to defeat home rule for the District of Columbia.

For the manner in which Negro voters repeated at the polls on behalf of Harriman, strengthened the argument that the colored population would vote along racial lines if the franchise were given to the Nation's Capital.

A woman heard a rooster crow several nights and remarked to her family that she never did like to hear a rooster crow—but, if he must crow, she added, why can't he crow in the morning like any other rooster instead of crowing at night.

Then one day the rooster showed up around the house, he walked back and forth, singing a funny little clucking song that he might have learned from a hen. He was white with a very red comb and only one tail feather.

He wandered back and forth looking the people over on the porch and liking the looks of the house pretty well he thought he would like to go in. He would go up to the door and look in but he didn't see how he could get inside, even get his foot off the bowl for Then he went over and jumped up on the back of the porch chair around on the side porch of the right at a window—in there he saw a very fine looking white fernery and went to sleep—in fact rooster so he thought he would go inside with the rooster but when he made a lunge forward he hit his head against the glass and fell off the chair. That didn't keep him from trying again.

After he had examined thoroughly the wall of the house which seemed to be keeping him out he got up on the back of the chair once more and saw his reflection again. If that other rooster got in there he would do it, too, he thought to himself, so he jumped at the window again, hit his head and fell off.

By this time he was pretty well worn out and very hot. He went around looking so unhappy that somebody got a small glass bowl of water for him—but he only walked by it, then stepped in it, turned it over and spilled the water. Then he didn't know what

Do I understand that we're getting 3,600 additional new freight cars to build up our service to shippers?

That's correct, young man, and at a cost, incidentally, of more than 27 million. Included in the new cars are —

500 covered hopper cars for bulk commodities requiring closed-car transportation.

500 hopper-bottom cars that can be used for coal, ore, sand, gravel and similar shipments.

500 all-purpose, 50-foot automobile cars with special nailable steel floors designed to withstand heavy loading.

500 livestock cars of which 400 are double deck.

500 ore cars equipped with roller bearings, especially designed for ore shipments.

500 52-foot gondolas for steel, coal, gravel or any open-top commodities.

100 65-foot gondolas, with drop ends, for handling excessive length shipments.

500 all-purpose, 40-foot box cars of 50-ton capacity.

This extensive building program is planned for completion during 1953. Thus, Union Pacific keeps abreast of shippers' requirements for adequate, dependable transportation.

May Charge Perjury Over Liquor Probe

By HARRY P. SNYDER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Republican raised the possibility of perjury proceedings today in the wake of conflicting testimony about the lack of anti-trust action against big liquor distillers.

Rep. Keating (R-NY), senior minority member of a House judiciary subcommittee, mentioned perjury prosecution after the group heard a charge and a denial that the Justice Department issued a "whitewash" report on the liquor industry.

On this and on other subjects, Keating told newsmen, there was "square, clear-cut conflict" between yesterday's witnesses. He added, however, "We will have to wait until we've heard from other witnesses before we reach a decision on the matter of perjury."

Several new witnesses, representing the co-operation (whiskey barrel) industry, were called to testify today.

Ernest L. Branham, a Justice Department attorney, told the subcommittee yesterday a recently prepared report saying there was no evidence of conspiracy among the distillers was "a whitewash of everything that had happened in the industry."

However, Branham said, he was called down "in very violent terms" by Edward P. Hodges, his boss and the No. 2 man in the Anti-Trust Division, for refusing to sign the report.

Hodges sprang to his feet at this point, called much of Branham's testimony untrue and asked a chance to deny it under oath.

Chairman Chief (D-Ky) said Hodges would be heard Friday.

"Yes," Hodges snapped, "after it's all in the newspapers."

Herbert A. Bergson, former head of the Anti-Trust Division, likewise demanded a chance to be heard. He was told, too, he'd have to wait until Friday.

Foes Map Plan To Wipe Out Controls Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foes of price and wage controls were reported today mapping plans to deal a death blow to the already battered controls extension bill.

The defense Production Act, which gives the President authority to control wages, prices, rents and production, expires next Monday unless Congress extends it.

And strong sentiment for letting the law dies was expected to be voiced by Republicans and Southern Democrats, who already have stripped the measure of most of its effective price control powers. They appear to have the votes to get their way, too, when the bill comes up for action tomorrow.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of the House Banking Committee, said his administration forces would make an all-out fight against a probable let-it-die movement.

A decontrol amendment by Rep. Talle (R-Iowa), overwhelmingly adopted last Friday, would require that price controls be lifted on goods which have sold below ceiling for three months or are in adequate supply—that is, not rationed or allocated. No goods now are rationed.

This was followed by a vote to abolish the present Wage Stabilization Board and replace it with an agency limited to policy matters and without authority to make recommendations in labor disputes.

All House actions so far are only tentative and still subject to a roll call vote.

The strategy of controls foes appeared aimed at riddling the bill with amendments first, then changing the date on the extension bill to when the law expires. This would be the same as letting all controls die at midnight Monday.

When the House takes up the bill again tomorrow, the first order of business will be a proposal by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) to request President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley injunction provision in the steel strike.

Administration leaders said in advance they had little hope of blocking it. A similar provision was written into the version passed by the Senate. Truman has pointed out that Congress can't make him invoke the law, which is 80-day no-strike injunction feature.

The other part was a peace contract with West Germany. Britain and France also signed that. The NATO pact was one of two agreements signed by Secretary of State Acheson last month.

Final adoption of the contract would end the Western occupation of West Germany.

Welch Would Eliminate State Income Tax
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Phil J. Welch of St. Joseph says he will try to eliminate the state income tax if he is elected governor.

Welch, campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor, addressed about 400 persons at a rally here last night.

He said the income tax was wholly unnecessary to the state because the legislature can't even find a way to spend the millions "being piled up in the state treasury from this tax."

The present Democratic governor, Forrest Smith, tried to persuade the legislature to limit the tax last winter, but he had no luck.

Gov. Stevenson Has To Stay In Hospital
CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's hospital stay today was extended by 24 hours.

The Illinois governor, who underwent a minor operation Sunday, had expected to leave the hospital today. But a state spokesman said the release time had been postponed to 11:30 a. m. Wednesday.

The hospital reported Stevenson was "coming along fine." He is 52.

Solon Will Walk Barefooted On Gravel He Failed to Pave

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Pittsburg County Rep. C. Plowboy Edwards said today he would keep his campaign promise and walk barefoot 7 1/2 miles over gravel and rocks on State Highway 31.

In 1950, Edwards vowed in a campaign speech at Quinton he would have the highway paved to McAlester or would walk barefoot the part not paved.

Although he made a vigorous effort, only a little more than nine miles have been blacktopped and another seven miles are being completed. This leaves 7 1/2 miles.

Senate Group Approves Reich In West Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a move to put West Germany into the Western defense alliance.

At the same time, the committee rejected by an 8-4 vote a provision that would deny the President the right to send troops abroad without the consent of Congress.

The vote on a protocol granting West Germany full guarantees of the North Atlantic Treaty was 9 to 1 with Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) casting the lone "nay" vote.

It was Hickenlooper who tried to write the troops-for-Europe restriction into the measure.

Thus a floor fight on the pact apparently was in the offing. Hickenlooper said his interpretation is important and that he will seek a vote of the full Senate on it.

The other part was a peace contract with West Germany. Britain and France also signed that. The NATO pact was one of two agreements signed by Secretary of State Acheson last month.

Final adoption of the contract would end the Western occupation of West Germany.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Tues., June 24, 1952

SCENE AT PASTURE MEETING — Part of the 250 people who attended the grass silage and pasture meeting at John Ryan's June 16 are looking at a 70 acre field of orchard grass and ladino clover. The field had been pastured with 96 steers since April 15 except for a week that they were on brome and ladino. John said he was sure he would have adequate pasture here until his lespeche was ready. He plans to come back in this pasture this fall after lespeche season (July, August and September) is past. The field was terraced in 1950 and treated with 1,100 pounds of raw rock phosphate per acre, limed and fertilized according to soil test and seeded to orchard grass, timothy and ladino clover in the spring of 1951. Mr. Ryan, Extension Field Crops Specialist William J. (Bill) Murphy, County Agent Roy Coplen and Sam Rowe, extension animal husbandman, can be seen just to the right of the lead truck.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood--

Films Showing Unfavorable Life In US Draw In Berlin

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Films that paint an unfavorable picture of American life are drawing crowds in Germany, two Hollywood film makers reported today.

The movie men are producer Richard Goldstone and director Andrew Marton, recently returned from filming "The Devil Makes Three" in Germany.

"We had a good chance to observe the movie habits of the Germans," said Goldstone. "One of the disturbing things was that pictures which hold America in a bad light are doing big business over there. For instance, 'The Big Carnival' drew big crowd because of its treatment of the American public."

Oddly enough, the film, which was originally called "Ace in the Hole," was considered a flop in this country. It starred Kirk Douglas and Jan Sterling.

"A Streetcar Named Desire" is another big hit in Germany," Goldstone added. "It is admired not merely for its drama, but because of its social implications. The Germans don't think of it as a story which could happen in any country, but one which is native to America."

"Also," Marton remarked, "they point to it as proof that not all Americans own cars and other luxuries."

What is the reason for the popularity of such films? "There is nothing in the books that says an occupying power should be liked," Marton explained.

"It is the reaction of those who have been conquered," Goldstone said. "They are always complaining about the Americans. They constantly blame Gen. Eisenhower for stopping at the Elbe and not going on to Berlin. You can't explain to them that he was acting under orders, even though the Germans have been noted for following orders themselves."

"But no matter how much they complain about the Americans, the Germans still consider themselves lucky that they are not under the Russians."

Both movie men agreed that U.S. films which paint a bad picture of American life should be withheld from Germany.

They explained that the Germans grudgingly gave permission for the making of "The Devil Makes Three," which concerns the smuggling of gold by Nazis in post-war Germany.

"The Germans had stacks of chips on their shoulders," the producer said. "It was the same as a Yankee film company shooting a picture in the South a couple of years after the Civil War."

The pair has many stories about their adventures in Europe. When they arrived in England, they saw BBC television shots of the blowing up of Berchtesgaden, which was to be the climax locale of their picture. They quickly flew to the onetime Hitler chalet and found it still standing. The BBC films had been some kind of ruse.

But demolition of Berchtesgaden was beginning by the time they started to shoot the film there. The film company had to persuade the wrecking crew to postpone the job.

When the company was filming near the Austrian border, it needed snow to match previous shots. So a truck of artificial snow was dispatched from Munich. But the thaw ended and a snowstorm came up. The truck driver had a dickens of a time explaining at the border that he was carrying a load of snow. It nearly created an international incident.

I got Conoco's NEW 1-2-3
"50,000 Miles
No Wear" Service!

Drive to your nearest Conoco Mileage Merchant and ask for Conoco's great new "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service—a service that helps your engine stay like new year after year, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

It's exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's, today!

Here's the Famous "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service!

1 Your Conoco Mileage Merchant Will Drain Out Grit and Sludge, preferably while engine is hot! "Hot-oil" drains every 1,000 miles flush out grit, dirt, acid and contamination—leave your engine sparkling clean!

2 He'll Recondition Air and Oil Filters! He'll clean filter elements, replace dirty cartridges, record the mileage. Every time hood is lifted, he'll check the mileage to make sure filters have been serviced at proper intervals.

3 He'll refill with great Conoco Super Motor Oil! Conoco Super is fortified with additives that curb dangerous accumulation of dirt and contamination—protect metal surfaces from corrosive combustion acids—fight rust and OIL-PLATE against wear.

Edging the Kiwanis, 8-7, the Jaycees put the Little League Majors into a three-way tie for first place and the Rotary pushed the Elks farther into the cellar by defeating them 20-6 Monday night in games played at Housel Park. It was the Elks' fifth straight loss after winning their first two games.

The Jaycees' winning pitcher was Kurtz, who needed help from Abney. Losing pitcher was Drew, who went the route for the Kiwanis, pitching a good game but the hitting wasn't enough for a victory. Receiving for the Jaycees was O'Mealy and Newman was behind the plate for the Kiwanis.

Leading hitters were Mateda for the losers, getting two for two, and L. Shepherd, who collected three for four for the winners. Mateda was the winning hurler for the Rotary as Woodsmall did the receiving. Burford relieved Mateda in the game as Mateda's arm seemed to tire. Sutton was the losing pitcher with Kuhns doing the catching.

Nichols, Woodsmall and Herrick all smacked three hits each in the Rotary hitting attack against the Elks. Sutton and Brown connected for two hits each for the losers.

Chiefs Have Won All-Star Game For Home Town

MOBERLY, Mo., (P)—The Sedalia Chiefs clinched the first half pennant in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league Sunday with a 7-6 victory over Columbia in 12 innings.

Sedalia, with an 8-1 record, plays a game at Boonville tonight, ending the first half schedule. But the Chiefs have already won the right to be host to the annual All-Star game Wednesday night, July 9th.

The Mexico Ramblers, who have a mathematical chance of claiming the first half flag, will try for their sixth win in nine games Thursday night at Columbia. The Ramblers have a postponed game with Brookfield to reschedule.

Two other games round out this week's comparatively light schedule. Boonville plays Thursday night at Moberly and Moberly sees action Friday night at Brookfield.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Sedalia	8	1	.889
Mexico	5	3	.625
Moberly	4	4	.500
Brookfield	3	4	.429
Columbia	2	6	.250
Boonville	2	6	.250

Wes Westrum Injury Sure to Hurt Giants; It's a Third Strike

NEW YORK (P)—The broken finger suffered by catcher Wes Westrum represents the third strike on the Giants. The National League champs might possibly have survived the losses of their two top outfielders, Monte Irvin and Willie Mays, but the absence of Westrum from their lineup for any length of time will prove fatal.

This year the long-ball clouter from Poughkeepsie has been at least the equal of Brooklyn's Roy Campanella. His batting average does not quite match that of the Dodger, but his dozen home runs make up any deficit there. His defense against base runners has been the most deadly in the game in recent weeks.

The Giants have no backstop to even begin to take Westrum's place.

U. S. Male Stars Lose In Tennis At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (P)—America's women tennis stars today were hoping to avert a recurrence of the double-barreled shock that hit the U.S. male stars yesterday at the start of the All-England Lawn Tennis Championships.

Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and young Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., bowed out yesterday in upsets that delighted the crowd of 20,000.

Larsen had been seeded ninth and Richardson, 11th.

Torsten Johansson of Sweden toppled Larsen, the U.S. hard courts champion, in a center court bout that went four sets. Richardson collapsed in a grueling five-set test on the same court under the tantalizing drop shots and sharpshooting placements of Felicissimo Ampon, the mighty mite from The Philippines.

That left a field of 10 Americans, including titleholder Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., and Philadelphia's Vic Seixas, top-ranking American player still in the running.

There are no men's singles matches today.

Top-seeded Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., opens defense of her singles titles against Miss S. W. Odling of Britain on the center court in a second-round match. Miss Hart has a first-round bye.

One all-American match pits Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., against Arvilla McGuire of Piedmont, Calif., also a second-round match for the eighty-seeded Mrs. Todd.

Leaders Lose 3 to 7 Sunday To Marshall Nine

The Schlitz Leaders dropped a Central Missouri league softball game to the Marshall K. of C. at Marshall Sunday night by a score of 7-3. Chuck Branson was on the hill for the Leaders, giving up seven hits. T. Davis of Marshall allowed five.

The Leaders jumped to an early lead, getting one run in the top of the first on a home run by J. Swisher. Marshall then pushed three runs across the plate in the second on a walk, an error and two hits. In the fourth they scored the winning run on a homer by D. Marshall.

The Leaders picked up their second run in the fourth on a circuit blow by Joe Imhauser. K. of C. tallied three more in the fifth on a walk and three hits. The Sedalia-liners scored their final run in the seventh. With the bags loaded C. Logan crossed the plate on a ground ball.

Batteries were: K. of C. Davis and Heinzel; Leaders, Branson and Swisher.

The Leaders will journey to Jefferson City Tuesday night for a return game with the Mid-State Printers. Players will leave from 420 Wilkerson at 6 p. m.

Chiefs to Boonville For B-J Game Tonight

The Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs play the Boonville Pirates tonight at Boonville. The Chiefs will be shooting for their seventh win in a row and ninth out of their last ten.

Jack Barnes or Bob Brown will be on the hill for the Sedalia-liners with Cochran or Nold receiving. The team will leave from the corner of Fifth and Kentucky at 5:30 p.m.

Musial Tops Hitters

NEW YORK, (P)—Stan Musial, striving for his sixth batting championship and third in a row, tops the National League in hitting today with .339 while Al Rosen, who never has batted .300, leads the American League's hit parade with .336.

Musial, the master mauler of the St. Louis Cardinals, tacked 11 points to his average during the week to wrest the lead from Whitey Lockman of the New York Giants.

Slingin' Sammy Baugh Signs 16th Pact With Pros

ABILENE, Tex., (P)—Sammy Baugh, that old cowhand who has played football with the Washington Redskins for 10 these many years, looks toward what he says will be his last season in professional football.

It will be the longest any man ever has played in the pro ranks, surpassing by one year the record of Johnny Blood of the Green Bay Packers and Pittsburgh Steelers.

Baugh took time out from rodeo appearances yesterday to sign his 16th contract with the Redskins. Dick Todd, coach of the Redskins, drove over from his home town, Crowell, some 140 miles north, to meet Baugh and get his name on the papers.

When Sam signed the contract and said, "This is positively the last time," Todd grinned. "Yeah, that's what you've been saying for—how long is it, anyway?"

Baugh said when he actually does quit pro football he hopes to be a coach at Hardin-Simmons University here, Baugh became an associate coach last spring.

"I got a bang out of working with the boys in spring training," he said. "I like the setup, think I would like to take it on a permanent basis. Besides that, it's close to home. I haven't given much thought to any other coaching job."

No Steel Let Out of Strike Bound Plants

PITTSBURGH (P) — The first trickle of the defense materials promised to the U.S. government by the CIO United Steelworkers in their 23-day-old strike began flowing today.

Curiously enough, the materials were not steel at all but lumite cement—used to make jet engine testing cells.

A cement plant in Buffington, Ind., shipped 521 barrels of this cement to a Studebaker plant in South Bend, Ind.

Aside from this, the defense materials—particularly finished steel—remained locked inside strike-bound warehouses and mills despite a government-industry plan to get it moving to aid the armed forces.

Steel companies said they have made no shipments of finished steel products.

One big producer announced it received orders from the government about what steel orders may be released. The company is polling its customers who had placed defense orders to see where the steel is needed.

The union refused to comment on reports that it demands full compliance with Wage Stabilization Board contract suggestions, before permitting its men to work in steel plants during the strike.

The WSB recommended a 26-cent hourly package pay raise and a union shop, both of which demands the steel firms have refused to meet.

Meanwhile, 650,000 basic steelworkers remain idle along with more than 100,000 made jobless in allied industries. And the total continues to grow.

Servel, Inc., of Evansville, Ind., said it will shut down its gas refrigerator production for the duration of the strike.

The Delco-Remy plant of General Motors at Anderson, Ind., will close for the week of June 30 to start inventory. Normally it wouldn't close until August, it said, but steel for some items is nearing exhaustion.

Yoder company, in Cleveland, announced it is cutting its production of artillery shells from two shifts, six days a week, to one five-day shift, due to the steel shortage. Also, Willys-Overland, in Toledo, is halting work on contracts to build jeeps for the government.

And two other plants in Ohio are scheduling vacations, shutting down defense production for two weeks, in hope of finding steel later.

J. E. Hightower Fatally Injured In Fall Off Pole

MARSHALL, Mo. — James E. (Salty) Hightower, 36, electric lineman for the city was fatally injured Monday when he fell 25 feet from a utility pole to a concrete sidewalk. He suffered a skull fracture. Hightower was changing his position on the pole when he lost his hold.

The lineman was a pitcher for the Knights of Columbus team here, tied for second place in the Central Missouri softball league. A game scheduled for Tuesday with Sweet Springs has been postponed because of his death.

Hightower is survived by his wife and two children. Robert Hightower, state highway patrolman stationed at Lexington, Mo., is a brother.

Gregory to K. U. School of Medicine

Ralph W. Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gregory, 720 East 16th, has completed two years at the University of Missouri School of Medicine, Columbia, and on Sept. 25 will enter the University of Kansas School of Medicine, Kansas City, Kan.

His wife is the former Betty Kullman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kullman, 1104½ West Third, and is a granddaughter of Mrs. Pearl Thompson of the same address.

Postpone Debate Over Germ Warfare Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P) — The U.N. Security Council postponed debate on Communist germ warfare charges until tomorrow after Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Vacancies Reported For Work In Wisconsin

The State Employment Commission will send a bus load of about 20 men to Wisconsin on Saturday, June 28, to work in the pea harvest.

The men must be 18 years of age or over and must have birth certificates to verify their age.

There are still many vacancies open for this work and anyone interested may contact the Employment Commission.

The World Today-- Civil Rights to Spout Again

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P) — The civil rights program is in the political shadows at the moment but will emerge at the Chicago conventions, where both parties will have to take a stand on it. It may be vital in the election.

The Republicans were mild on civil rights in their 1948 platform. This undoubtedly cost them plenty among Northern Negro voters and ardent white supporters of a civil rights program. It didn't help the Republicans directly in the South.

If the Republicans don't wreck themselves this year by their own internal quarrels and again are mild on civil rights, it may cost them Northern Negro votes but may do them good this time among Southern whites.

Both Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Taft have made a strong pitch to win white Southerners away from ardent white supporters of a civil rights program. Neither has said anything which could inflame white Southerners against them very much.

Among the various civil rights problems, the one getting the most attention in recent years has been the FEPC, a fair employment practices commission. The purpose of a government FEPC would be to prevent employers from discriminating against a man—who is in a job or looking for one—because of his color or religious belief.

A presidential candidate can take one of three positions: against a government FEPC altogether, leaving employment problems to the states; for a federal FEPC which is only advisory, lacking teeth; or for a federal FEPC with full power to compel an employer not to discriminate, meaning he can be punished if he does.

That last one, the compulsory

Kefauver Believes US Wants to Keep Gains Made Under Dems.

NEW YORK (P) — Sen. Estes Kefauver says the American people "want to retain the social and economic gains that we have made under Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman."

A vote for the Republican presidential candidate whoever he may be, adds Kefauver, will be a vote "to bring back to power the same forces of reaction that fought the social progress of the last 20 years."

Kefauver was here last night to speak at a fund-raising dinner for his campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination. The dinner, given by Martin Tannenbaum, a fabrics firm executive, reportedly brought in $25,000 to $30,000.

The Tennessee senator said that "under the leadership of the Republican party we are not going to be able to carry out programs of social and economic progress."

Edge of Typhoon Hits Japan, Kills At Least 65 Persons

TOKYO (P) — The edge of a typhoon hit Japan today and heaped death and destruction on portions of the four main islands.

At least 65 persons were killed and the toll was rising as reports came in over battered communication systems. The casualty toll included 27 injured and 58 missing.

The Japanese Coast Guard said 55 fishing boats with 234 persons aboard also were unaccounted for.

The storm hit last night. It began blowing out to sea by midday. National rural police reported 8,800 homes damaged by the wind and rain which in many places amounted to 10 per cent of the annual rainfall.

All meteorites are not hot when they reach the earth; some have arrived coated with ice.

War Begins Third Year On Wednesday

SEOUL, Korea (P) — Russian-built tanks rumbled southward across Parallel 38 in the predawn darkness two years ago tomorrow and plunged Korea into a bloody, bitter war that has become a stalemate.

The naked aggression against the United Nations-sponsored Republic of (South) Korea by the Soviet Union's puppet North "Korean Peoples Republic" began a destructive, see-saw struggle that has left this Asiatic peninsula in ruins.

Eighteen members of the United Nations and hordes of Chinese Communists have become involved in the war that has produced no winner. Casualties total more than two million. More than 10 million civilians are homeless.

U.N. troops have suffered 419,456 casualties, mostly South Koreans, but including 109,971 Americans. The Chinese and North Korean Reds killed, wounded or captured are reckoned at 1,623,404.

And now the conflict is almost where it began. Powerful land armies have remained more or less stable, for nearly a year, along a line stretching diagonally northeastward from a few miles south of Parallel 38 in West Korea. Until only a few days ago, both sides seemed awaiting the outcome of the almost year old unproductive armistice talks at Panmunjom.

However, as the war's second anniversary drew near, Allied tanks and infantry were putting pressure on the Chinese in Western Korea and North Korea's vital hydro-electric plants were smashed in a mass air strike.

A U.S. Defense Department official in Washington said the military action seemed to be "the best way of breaking the deadlock at Panmunjom . . ."

Forced to Ration Some Ammunition

WASHINGTON (P) — The Defense Department says it has been forced to ration some types of ammunition in Korea.

But the department said such rationing is not an unusual military situation and does not mean soldiers are without shells for their guns.

A statement issued last night said shortages have developed in some types of ammunition because artillery units were authorized to fire at a faster rate than in World War II.

Annually, rats destroy or damage 200,000,000 bushels of grain.

Sen. Russell Wants Government to Seize Steel Industry Now

PHOENIX, Ariz. (P) — Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, last night advocated government seizure of the strike-bound steel industry, under authority of the 1940 Selective Service Act.

Russell, who arrived here by private plane for a round of political appearances today, said seizure would be legal under a provision of the law dealing with industries involved in defense production.

"The American people have got to push this arms program," he asserted. "It's the main issue before the country."

Red Radio Beams Propaganda

LONDON (P) — Moscow Radio preaches the Kremlin line to the world in 33 foreign languages. In tongues as diverse as Arabic, Cantonese, Macedonian and Hindustani, the giant broadcasting center reaches every corner of the globe.

Using several channels, short and medium wave, Moscow Radio is on the air with 593 hours of foreign broadcasts weekly. The programs are relayed by transmitters in the Soviet Union and in the satellite countries.

The United States is the principal target with 46 hours a week Russian commentators — often speaking in American slang — concentrate on Korean war propaganda.

Wedding Ring Found

STEWACKE, N. S. (P) — A gold wedding ring lost on a farm here 32 years ago was found in a garden by 8-year-old Beverly MacKay.

It belonged to a grand-aunt of the child, who lost it while preparing to move with her husband to Alberta in 1920.

Bill McKenna, Brandeis University end, has gained 20 pounds in the off-season by lifting weights and barbells.

JUNGLE EF

A lot of grown-ups have been snorting and snorting at the antics of the college boys and their party raids all over the country. Just wait, though, until the wild demonstrations for presidential candidates start at the national conventions in Chicago before you decide whether the young or the older heads should be examined.

Dangerous Game

The African buffalo doesn't get the publicity that the more spectacular elephants, lions, and rhinos do, but many big game hunters rate it as the most dangerous to hunt of all African animals. A buffalo bull will trample and paw a victim for hours.

New Mousetrap Idea

MARION, ILL. (P) — The world is a step nearer that better mousetrap.

Henry Hoffman, 79, a retired executive, started with a common trap and had a fishhook soldered onto the bait trigger. He explains the bait may be put on the hook barb so that the mouse that tries to slip it off gets hooked like a fish.

"It's not an invention," Hoffman chuckles. "It's just an idea and I want everybody to know about it."

Inside the Democratic Party: Heritage of FDR, Influence of HST, Hope Despite Ike

By JOHN GUNTHER
Written for NEA Service
What's inside the Democratic Party?
First, the heritage of Roosevelt.
Second, the paternal influence, whatever it may be worth, of Mr. Truman.
Third, rival candidates, none of whom hate each other quite as much as do the leading Republican candidates.
Fourth, baffling uncertainty who the candidate will be.
Fifth, important sectional differences.
Sixth, confusion.
Seventh, in spite of Ike and everything, some modicum of hope.
The greatest single, overriding advantage the Democrats have in the campaign about to be fought, with no holds barred, is the fact that the balance of power between the parties has changed drastically, with the result that the Democrats are now apparently the majority party in this country, not the Republicans.
Recent Gallup polls are illuminating. The Democrats can expect to poll 39 per cent of the total vote in 1952, and the Republicans 34 per cent.
Independents—people who say they have no party choice—make up the remaining 27 per cent and will obviously decide the issue.
In 1948, the independent vote went 57 per cent Democratic, 43 per cent Republican. But a poll taken in March, 1952, upped the

How much do you know about what's happening inside the two major parties as convention time approaches? Here's the penetrating story on the struggle for political power, detailed by John Gunther, one of this generation's best-known reporters. This is the first of his four articles on the Democratic Party, written exclusively for NEA Service and The Democrat-Capital. They will be followed by five more "inside" reports on the Republican Party.

Republicans (among independents) to 45 per cent, while the Democrats dropped to 36 per cent, with 10 per cent still undecided.
Even so, to win the Democrats will need to take only six million independent votes on—the basis of an estimated total electorate of 55 million. The Republicans must take nine million.
Figures, like delegates, are not very fixed objects. They may change radically between now and November. The impact of a fresh, glowing personality like Eisenhower might make millions of voters move about. The Democrats don't know who their own candidate will be, and quite possibly he will be somebody very weak.
So unprecedently fluid is the whole political picture and so uncertain is the long-run future that I heard one esteemed specialist say, "No matter who gets in, he will be a one-term president."

The second great advantage the Democrats have, according to their own special view, is that the country is prosperous, most people are getting along fine, and the average voter is better off than he has ever been before. Hence, he is going to vote for the status quo. So reason the Democrats.
The Democrats—with substantial aid from events—have kept employment full, and both farm prices and wages dizzyingly high. They have not only given a new measure of security to people at large; they are in a position to promise more and continuing security.
It is mostly the rich who howl about taxes, say the Democrats. As to the poor, they are infinitely what will Democratic strategy be?

First, to hope that Taft will be nominated, because he will be, the Democratic leaders think, far and away the easiest candidate to beat. I heard one Democratic luminary so luminous that I hesitate to mention his name say, "I pray on my knees every night that Taft will be it."
Any Democrat, the Democrats feel, can beat Taft, because if Taft is running, the Democratic Party is almost certain to carry the pivotal states with large labor votes, like New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan, and California. (Understand that I am merely reporting a Democratic view and that Taft Republicans will, of course, dispute this theory hotly.)
Second, to try to force the Republican candidate, no matter who he is, into the furthest possible reactionary position, both on foreign policy and in domestic issues.
Tomorrow: What—and who—runs the Democratic Party?

Ike Pitches His Campaign On War, Peace

DENVER (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower pitched his presidential campaign today squarely on a peace-or-war issue with his GOP opponent, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.
The general laid down the battle lines in a television-radio speech last night in which he blasted isolationists and declared he was in politics primarily because he believed peace was at stake in the contest for the GOP presidential nomination.
He outlined his own peace and world security program in this way:
1. Convince the world that America has a sincere devotion to peace and will not consider proposals for a "preventive war."
2. Support the United Nations, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other security agreements as instruments for peace.
3. Pursue a positive foreign program, rather than a "hand to mouth" operation, which will line up the Allies against the enslavement of any nation.
4. Build up spiritual and military strength which will convince the Russian leaders they must accept a "just and practical plan" of world disarmament.
In firm command of his own campaign, Eisenhower left no doubt he classed Taft among the isolationists. He said a "retreat into isolationism" would leave the United States "encircled by a savage wolf pack" of communism.
Today the general called a news conference to enlarge on his views. Later he was to meet with GOP National Convention delegates from Louisiana, where Taft-Eisenhower forces are disputing the manner in which delegates were elected to the national convention in Chicago next month.
The general didn't name Taft directly but his remarks were billed by Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), an advisor, as revealing a wide foreign policy chasm between the two Republican candidates. And Eisenhower gave his approval to this billing.

Coupled with the fact that Eisenhower recently (in private) called Taft an isolationist, he made it clear he was shooting at Taft when he said:
"Those who assert that America can retire within its own borders; those who seem to think we have little or no stake in the rest of the world and what happens to it; those who act as though we had no need for friends to share in the said if the Communist expansion defense of freedom—those persons are ignorant or irresponsible or they are taking an unjustified gamble with peace."
At another point, Eisenhower should cut off America's sources of raw materials then the United States and her allies would be in a desperate plight. He added:
"This bleak scene would be our lot if we heeded the false prophets of living alone—who preach that we need do nothing except maintain a destructive retaliatory force in the event the Russian armies should march... This would be the result of a retreat by us into isolationism."
Eisenhower's speech came after it became known that his advisers admit they had made a mistake in not giving the general free rein to run his own show from the very start of his campaign.
"Ike has taken over in his own way," one adviser said, "and he's making the decisions."
His top command now feels that the general is more effective as a campaigner when he writes his own speeches and does things in a natural and unplanned manner.
This may account for the fact that there is no firm long-range
